IMMI announces availability of updated Emergency Response Guide

Westfield, Ind. – Dec. 15, 2010 –Today IMMI® announced the availability of an updated Emergency Response Training Guide, a firefighter training resource offered on IMMI SRS advanced occupant protection systems. This guide, now available on the IMMI Web site, is to be used as a familiarization and training manual for owners and operators of RollTek® and 4Front®-equipped vehicles, as well as first responders who may be required to deal with these vehicles under emergency circumstances.

“It is very important for firefighters to spend time going through this information before an accident occurs with a commercial vehicle that is equipped with RollTek and 4Front systems,” said IMMI Vice President James Johnson. “The Emergency Response Guide gives first responders all the information they need to handle these systems successfully and safely.”

IMMI began distributing the updated Emergency Response Guide with RollTek and 4Front orders in October 2010. Visitors can download the guide online at www.imminet.com/support/.

IMMI is the leading provider of advanced safety systems for fire apparatus. IMMI engineers work alongside the most trusted fire apparatus manufacturers, delivering advanced occupant protection products that are proven to meet the needs of firefighters. IMMI offers the following fire products: RollTek side roll protection, SmartDock® hands-free SCBA holders and 4Front frontal collision protection.
